

Summer 2015 China Study Abroad Course

ECON A494C Globalization and China Economy and Business

Course Description

Travel to China to visit firms, markets, agricultural fields, agencies and universities. Interact with Chinese entrepreneurs, business executives, farmers and university students in China. Learn China's economy and business models and development under a globalization framework. Explore the Chinese culture and history, for example, by touring the Forbidden City and the Great Wall in Beijing, the Terra Cotta Warriors in Xi'an, modern finance city skyline in Shanghai and cruising along the Yangtze River.

Moreover, we will join China study abroad group from Purdue University and experience the journey together.

Credits

3 credits, upper-division elective course, no prerequisites, open to all majors

Destinations

Beijing, Shanghai, Chongqing, Xi'an and Wuhan in China

Travel Dates

Tentatively May 11 - May 26, 2015, 15 days

Course Fees

$4,600 (tentative, including international airfare, in China bus, train, air and cruise, hotels, meals, tour site entry fees, and insurance) plus tuition and visa application fee

Faculty Advisors

Dr. Angie Zheng and Dr. Paul Johnson,
Department of Economics and Public Policy

Application

Application deadline is 1/30/2015. If you are interested in this course, please contact Dr. Angie Zheng ASAP for further information: qzheng3@uaa.alaska.edu, 907-786-4144.

