

Indigenous Leadership explores leadership styles in Alaska Native organizations and compares and contrasts Indigenous and non-Native leadership characteristics. Students will also explore and define their own leadership style and examine the leadership of the board of directors for an organization.

Who Should take this course:

- Students, including non-Native students, who plan to live and work in Alaska. Understanding Alaska Native Leadership is essential to understanding the Alaska business landscape.
- Students who need to meet their Alaska Native-Themed General Education Requirement. BA A402 satisfies this requirement.
- Students who want a better understanding of the unique qualities of Alaska Native Leadership.
- MBA Students and Graduate Students may find that BA A402 meets elective requirements within their respective programs. Always check with your advisor to make sure.

BA A402 INDIGENOUS LEADERSHIP*

SPRING 2022 – WEB BASED COURSE

Instructor: Sharon Guenther Lind, MBA, Ph.D.

CRN: 32269

Thursday's at 5:30 p.m. to 8:15p.m. via Distance Ed (Zoom)

January 10 – April 30, 2022

This course satisfies the Alaska Native Themed General Education Requirement.*

Sign up for our BA A402 Indigenous Leadership class, taught by Sharon Guenther Lind at UAONLINE.

SIGN UP TODAY FOR INDIGENOUS LEADERSHIP!

(MBA students – check with your Student Advisor. This course may be an elective option for you in your MBA program.)

UAA College of Business and Public Policy

Alaska Native
Business Management

Spring 2022

BA A402
Indigenous Leadership

Instructor:

Sharon Guenther Lind

CRN: 32269

QUESTIONS?

Contact

Sharon Guenther Lind at 907-786-0608 or email her
at: SGLind@alaska.edu