1st Annual Alaska Native Business Summit

An Innovative Partnership to Consider the Past, Present and Future of Alaska Native Business

Wednesday, October 14, 2015
1:00 p.m. – 5:00 p.m.
3rd Floor, UAA/APU Consortium Library
3211 Providence Drive
Anchorage, Alaska

Agenda

Introductions - Sheri Buretta, Chairman of the Board, Chugach Alaska Corporation and Dr. Rashmi Prasad, Dean, College of Business and Public Policy

Welcome – Provost Sam Gingerich Chancellor Tom Case and Lt. Governor Byron Mallott

Why ANCSA? – Dr. William Hensley

Success Stories and Innovative Approaches to In-state Investments
   Jason Metrokin, President and CEO, Bristol Bay Native Corporation
   Maver Carey, President/CEO, The Kuskokwim Corporation
   Carl Marrs, CEO, Old Harbor Native Corporation

Break out session –

   Defining Policy for the Future - What policy changes are needed to improve the Alaska Native Corporation’s ability to stimulate the Alaska economy?

Discussion – Break-out Session Results

Closing Remarks and Next Steps -
   Gerad Godfrey, Rural and Intergovernmental Affairs Senior Adviser for Governor Bill Walker
   Sheri Buretta and Dr. Rashmi Prasad

Adjournment

The Alaska Native Business Summit - An innovative partnership to share, learn and build upon Alaska Native corporate models of business. This summit has been coordinated through a partnership between UAA’s College of Business and Public Policy, the ANCSA Regional Association, the Alaska Native Village Corporation Association, and the State of Alaska –

A community engaged partnership to consider the past, present and future of Alaska Native Business.